HUMANA (People to People India)

Drop out & School Left Out Children Education & Development Program

- The Bal Vikas School program reveals that the number of non-school going children is too big and the locality that are situated far from Bal Vikas School those children can not come to school. So we have decided to open an education center at the localities where more labour families lives. So we have associated with “Humana NGO” who have a vast exposure & work experience of more than a decade in the field of Children Education as well as social & community development.
- KADAM Pre Schooling & Day Care Center:-
- Raj provides the financial support to Humana to run a free of cost pre schooling and day care center for 0-8 years children. As the center / effort is just a beginning to enlighten the lives of many labour families the program is named as “KADAM” (the beginning step). The families specially women who works in the industry they leaves their children at this center and the children gets the schooling and day care during 9 AM to 5 PM. At present more 40 children are getting education through this KADAM center.

2. Women Empowerment

Raj Overseas Believes that “Women empowerment means empowering women by making them feel an equal part of society by educating them, making them self-sufficient, giving them equal roles in managing the society and most important of all, respecting them for their contribution.”

We are in the 21st century but still gender disparity exists in India at different-different stages. Being born as women in Indian society one has to face the gender discrimination at various levels. Raj Group put their foot forward to bring out the female from the boundaries of their household chores, raising children and looking after families. As women has limited access to job opportunities and at sometimes some female does not feels comfortable working under a male supervision or their families don't allow them to work among male companions. To get a solution of this issues

- Raj opened a Carpet Weaving Centre:- Now a days as most of the industries are working as a profit centre and the management is a adamant to utilise their resource at full capacity. This competitiveness don't leave any space for a new comer to learn and then earn. If any one wish to do a job, than the opportunity of training is almost nil and due to lack of practical training he is not able to get any job.
- The situation get worsened in case the case of female job aspirant. Thus keeping in mind the Idea “BETI ROZGAR DILAO” we have opened a centre at a locality where no factory exists and the purpose of opening this centre is to provide weaving skills to household females, so that they can utilise their spare time. During this training they get the remuneration in return of their work and the earning that they gain from here had turned them self dependent instead.
- To provide the female (new entrainments) the ease of learning and to increase their interest we deployed only female staff at this centre and all the activities are monitored by female staff, supervisors only. No male staff is deployed here. In a month more then 25 women are getting training at this centre and then making job at other places of their choice / convenient including Raj's own weaving facilities.

3. Preserve The Artisanship in Handloom Sector

- History:- In India, the handloom sector employs more than 43 lakh people, directly or indirectly, contributing to more than 15% fabric production in the country. It is the second largest after the agricultural sector and plays a major role in the export business as well.
- Indian handloom sector holds a unique position as similar sectors all over the world have closed down. Except for very few countries, handloom products have almost vanished from world markets. Indian handlooms hold a major chunk in the hand woven fabric, 95% in the world.
- But this is not enough to sustain the sector, Faced with fewer returns on heavy labour, the younger generation of weavers is trying to find new avenues of work to get easy money. Thus, an important and unique heritage sector is, unfortunately, facing existential problems.
- “Preserve the Artisanship” Thus Raj has taken their foot forward to support the weavers and their families and developed the various means to understand & fulfill their family needs and started supporting them by giving them something special more than the terms of their employment contract. Keeping this idea at heart we launched the program:- “Preserve the Artisanship” on 7th of August 2016 on National Handloom Day. In a shorter span of 3 years we had launched more than 20 program for our weavers and more than 1000 weavers families had benefited through these program. We had partner with “FAIR TRADE” organization to facilitate and support our initiatives.

Due to high cost involvement most of the person didn't undergo a routine health check-up and if they ever falls ill then only they comes to know about the problem / disease and due to this late diagnosis sometimes the situation turned so worse that its make difficult the chance of survival of the affected one. So we have started the free health check-up program on yearly basis. All the weavers get benefit through this.
